The Athenian Society is the premier philanthropic organization for the USC Sol Price School of Public Policy, securing the resources needed to support the academic and programmatic priorities directed by Dean Jack H. Knott.

As the school’s premier annual giving society, the Athenian Society provides a meaningful community for those who support the school’s mission to improve the quality of life for people and their communities here and abroad, and who wish to support the school’s continued excellence in education, research and service.

Athenian Society members enjoy access to the cutting-edge research and scholarship taking place at the Price School and to a host of networking and professional development opportunities.

Athenian Society at USC Sol Price School of Public Policy
The name of the USC Sol Price School of Public Policy Athenian Society grew out of the oath taken by the citizens of ancient Athens. To this day, the oath continues to be referenced by leaders in public service as an exemplary symbol of civic duty. As the premier philanthropic organization for the school, we subscribe to this oath.

We will never bring disgrace on this our City by an act of dishonesty or cowardice.

We will fight for the ideals and Sacred Things of the City both alone and with many.

We will revere and obey the City’s laws, and will do our best to incite a like reverence and respect in those above us who are prone to annul them or set them at naught.

We will strive increasingly to quicken the public’s sense of civic duty.

Thus in all these ways we will transmit this City, not only not less, but greater and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.

– The Athenian Oath
