GEORGE WILL:
THE CHALLENGE OF COMMUNICATING TODAY’S POLICY COMPLEXITIES

Dean Jack H. Knott cordially invites you to the Holt Distinguished Lecture on Public Policy and Communication, featuring George Will—one of the country’s foremost political commentators and Pulitzer Prize winning columnist—as he discusses The Challenge of Communicating Today’s Policy Complexities.

Mr. Will’s newspaper column has been syndicated by The Washington Post since 1974. Today, it appears twice weekly in more than 400 newspapers. In 1976, he became a regular contributing editor of Newsweek magazine, for which he provides a bimonthly essay. In 1977, he won a Pulitzer Prize for commentary in his newspaper columns. In 1981, Mr. Will became a founding panel member on ABC television’s “This Week.” He is the author of several books on political theory and baseball.
